Welcoming a New Academic Year with Hope and Purpose

Dear Students and Parents

As we embark on this exciting new academic year, I want to send my warmest wishes for a journey filled with curiosity, growth, and meaningful learning experiences. A new beginning always brings with it a sense of excitement—a blank canvas just waiting to be filled with your unique stories, efforts, and dreams.

Let me share a simple yet powerful story that has stuck with me over the years:

One morning, a young boy was strolling along a beach where countless starfish had washed up on the shore. He began to gently pick them up one by one, returning them to the ocean. A passerby, noticing this, asked, “Why bother? There are so many—what difference can you really make?” The boy smiled, picked up another starfish, and said, “It makes a difference to this one.”

This story serves as a beautiful reminder that no act of kindness is too small, and every effort counts. Whether you’re lending a hand to a friend, trying something new, or simply giving your all in class, you are making a difference.

To our students: Embrace this year with confidence and curiosity. Approach your learning with an open heart, lead with kindness, and never underestimate the impact of your actions. Every question you ask and every challenge you face brings you closer to realizing your full potential.

To our parents: Your trust and support are the bedrock of everything we aim to achieve. Thank you for being our partners on this journey. Together, we will continue to nurture not just capable learners but also responsible, compassionate, and resilient individuals.

Let this academic year be one filled with renewed energy, purposeful learning, and joyful discoveries.

With warm regards and best wishes

Dr. Saroj Suman Gulati
